Predictions for 2022 - Wapella Grade 5/6/7

My prediction is in the agriculture category. I think that it is going to be a dry year. For some crops that is good but others not so much.

Makayla

I predict that John Deere will be the best-selling brand of tractor in 2022.

Layne

I predict that a new variant of Covid will come out in 2022.

Amber

There will be new fashion trends from olden days. I think there will be different styles from the 50's.

Lachlyn

Think of how awesome it would be, if next year, blind people could see.

Lia

My prediction is in the science category. It is about the subject of Covid-19 that we are all familiar with. I think that in 2022 the cases will go up a little because everybody will be having Christmas, which is awesome, but some people will go partying on New Year's because some people who have their vaccine may think that they are indestructible, and they think that they can't get Covid or give it. Today (December 6, 2021) the total cases in Canada are 1.81 million but the Covid deaths are 29,819.

Vaida

My prediction is that Yellowstone will erupt in 2022.

Nevin

They will discover more about the paracyclotosaur.

Sophie

My prediction is that there will be a new social media platform that will become extremely popular and lots of people will be using it.

Chloe

My prediction is that Ovechkin will beat Gretzky's record.

Austin

My prediction is that in the NHL playoffs, the Calgary Flames are going to play the Edmonton Oilers for the West Final and the Washington Capitals will be playing against the Toronto Maple Leafs for the East Finals. The Oilers will win against Calgary, and Washington will win the East and the Stanley Cup.

Corben

Next year I think black dragon water monitors will learn to breathe air and hold it when they are diving.
