

Happy Father's Day!

A gift for every dad

Are you looking for the perfect Father's Day present but don't know what to buy? Here are some gift ideas for several types of dads.

THE ATHLETE

If your father's a fitness enthusiast, he'll likely appreciate:

- A sturdy, insulated water bottle
- A membership to a specialized gym
- A duffel bag for his workout gear
- A pair of high-quality running shoes
- A set of wireless headphones

THE FOODIE

If your father loves to cook (and eat), you can't go wrong with:

- A cookbook featuring international recipes
- An assortment of spices
- A set of knives
- A barbecue and/or accessories for the grill
- A meal at a five-star restaurant

THE BOOKWORM

If your father always has his nose in a book, consider:

- A personalized bookmark
- A new release by an author he loves
- A patterned book sleeve
- A gift certificate from a bookstore
- An e-book reader

Regardless of the gift you choose, remember to include a heartfelt card that shows your dad how much he's loved and appreciated.

Happy Father's Day!

The changing face of fatherhood

The days of men "baby-sitting" their own children are a thing of the past. Today's fathers are more nurturing and more likely to contribute to child care and housework than ever before.

Starting when their kids are first born, modern dads are, in fact, more involved in rearing their children than their fathers and grandfathers were. As recently as the 1970s, it was rare for a man to be present when his child was born. Now it's uncommon for a dad to not be in the delivery room when his child comes into the world.

The trend of fathers playing active roles in their kids' lives continues throughout childhood, and today's fathers spend more time caring for their kids. One study found that fathers from 11 wealthy western countries spent about an hour a day on child care activities in 2012, but that dads in 1965 spent an average of just 16 minutes a day actively parenting.

Contemporary fathers are also more likely to contribute to household chores than previous generations were. On average, Canadian fathers do two-and-a-half hours of housework a day, compared to two hours a day in 1986.

One specific task in particular that men have embraced is preparing family meals. The amount of fathers who cook regularly has nearly doubled since 1986, rising from 29 to 59 per cent.

When men take on a more active role in parenting, their kids benefit. Studies show that children with involved dads perform better academically, have higher self-esteem and are less likely to have troubles with the law later in life.

Happy Father's Day!

Father's Day lineup: a day dedicated to Dad

Does your kids' dad deserve more than a tie and a hug for Father's Day? This year, help your children celebrate their old man by dedicating the whole day to him.

MORNING

Breakfast in bed is the perfect way to kick off Father's Day. Older kids can help prepare and serve the meal, and little ones can decorate the serving tray or table. Excellent service is mandatory on such an important day, so everyone will need to be on their best behaviour.

AFTERNOON

If he loves his car almost as much as he loves his kids, treat him to a car wash at home. Once the car is looking shiny and new, take a ride to the activity of Dad's choice. The whole family is sure to enjoy whatever he picks, whether it's mini-golf, the ice cream shop or the park.

NIGHT

End the day with a movie marathon at home. Let Dad decide what you watch and nosh on. If he loves Mexican food, make nachos. If he appreciates the classic movie snacks, you can't go wrong with buttery popcorn. And don't forget to pick up his favourite candy so he can satisfy his sweet tooth.
